

Insist on Design for Documentum!

If it's not Designed for Documentum—shouldn't it be?

Lower TCO—Packaged offerings bearing the Designed for Documentum logo have a track record of reducing custom development, speeding deployment, reducing administration and upgrade costs resulting in significant total savings over a custom solution.

Superior Architecture—Designed for Documentum offerings are simply designed better! You can expect these offerings to employ Documentum platform services correctly, only embrace supported interfaces, and follow best practices for design and development.

Faster Deployment—Packaged offerings bearing the Designed for Documentum logo adhere to standards for installation and configuration, speeding deployment in your environment and ensuring quicker time to productivity.

Enhance Compatibility—Designed for Documentum offerings work together. They follow design conventions and belong to a registry for Documentum objects, eliminating conflicts between applications and with the underlying platform.

Complete Documentation—Without proper documentation for administrators and users, your training and support costs soar. Designed for Documentum offerings feature comprehensive documentation and support resources that make your life easier.

Simpler Migration—Designed for Documentum offerings are built to avoid the pitfalls associated with upgrading from version to version, enabling you to leverage the latest platform features more quickly.

Optimized Platform—Partners with Designed for Documentum offerings work closely with our product architects and engineers to ensure the best utilization of the platform possible protecting your investment.

Rapid Discovery—Find a business solution fast! You can find the best solutions by looking for the Designed for Documentum logo. Look online for the EMC Application Portfolio at www.documentum.com/app_portfolio.
